

Empowering Future Pharmacists University of Cyberjaya Industrial Visit | 30 May 2025

On 30 May 2025, Novugen had the pleasure of welcoming 19 enthusiastic Year 3 Pharmacy students from the University of Cyberjaya, along with their lecturer from the Good Industrial Practice (PHAR 3373) course, for an engaging industrial visit. The half-day event was thoughtfully curated to provide a comprehensive understanding of the real-world dynamics within the pharmaceutical manufacturing sector.

As Novugen continues to open its doors to academic partners, bridging the gap between classroom learning and industry practice, we reaffirm our commitment to nurturing the next generation of pharmaceutical professionals. The students' active participation and curiosity during the hands-on exposure to our production environment reflected a strong interest in Novugen's state-of-the-art capabilities.

Feedback from the students was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing sincere appreciation and describing the experience as "eye-opening," "informative," and "fun." Valuable suggestions were also shared for future visits, including more in-depth engagement sessions and opportunities to explore areas such as oncology and R&D.

Looking ahead, Novugen remains committed to strengthening collaborations with universities and academic institutions. By offering more immersive, real-world learning opportunities, we aim to cultivate local talent and foster sustainable industry-academic partnerships, critical to advancing our mission of improving global health through innovation and access.
